

Why?

- Childhood cancer is overlooked by the federal government and the general public—unless it hits your family, you won't pay attention to it
- We are building for an ongoing scholarship to be offered for the first time when Alexa's class graduates from high school in 2016
- Alexa's brave battle with medulloblastoma started when she was 8 years old. She was the epitome of strength and good nature during her three year ordeal, although she hated her "stupid cancer."
